HAPPY NEW YEAR!

We say that every year and each year gives us a lot of happiness and sadness. This past January after we had wished each other Happy New Year two young boys (my sister's grandchildren) were killed in a car accident in Oregon. And as she wrote in her Christmas card this year we are so happy to have 2011 behind us.

This year some of our own were diagnosed with Cancer. We lost our old friend and elder Harold Gardner. We watched tsunamis and tornados rip apart whole communities. But at the same time we had weddings and special occasions that made this past year happy. Every year brings sadness and tears. We certainly could use some good news today.

But all this year we will hear reports that the world is going to end on December 21st of this year. Yes you read correctly, in some way, shape or form the earth will cease to exist. Stop planning your careers, don't bother buying a house, and be sure to spend the last year of your life doing something you always wanted to do but never had the time. Now you have the time—because it's all going to end.

So what is all this crazy talk? We've heard these doomsday predictions before and we're still here—so why is 2012 so important? Well it's all because the Mayan calendar stops at the end of the year 2012 churning up all sorts of religious, scientific and historic reasons why this calendar foretells the end of life as we know it. On this date, doomsayers assert that the earth will be ravaged by a smorgasbord of cataclysmic events. True or false.

Well we don't know, do we? We have another ancient book that tells us in Matthew 24:36-----
“However, no one knows the day nor the hour when these things will happen, not even the angels in heaven or the Son himself. Only the Father knows. (42) therefore keep watch, because you do not know on what day our Lord will come.”

Or Acts 1:7: “It is not for you to know the times or dates the father has set by his own authority”.

Revelation 1:7: “Look, he is coming with the clouds, and every eye shall see him, even those who pierced him, and all the peoples of the earth will mourn because of him... I am the Alpha and the Omega, says the Lord God, who is, and who was, and who is to come, the Almighty.

Our message to you is Have a Happy 2012—and let us always be prepared to meet our God.
